

Celebrating the Davidson's Plum

Tropical North Qld is home to a diverse range of Australian native tropical rainforest fruits long known by the indigenous people of the wet tropics for their healing and wellness properties. The Davidson's plum has three times more antioxidants than blueberries. This fruit has a powerful flavour as well as promising health properties with antioxidant levels three times higher than blueberries. It lends itself well to both savory and sweet culinary uses and is in high demand by the health foods sector. Davidson's plum was extensively used throughout the Australian Masterchef 2020 season and was a key ingredient in the winning recipe.
